

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! ACTS LIKE DYNAMITE ON LIVER

I Guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Give You the Best Liver and Bowel Cleansing You Ever Had—Doesn't Make You Sick!

Stop using calomel! It makes you sick. Don't lose a day's work. If you feel lazy, sluggish, bilious or constipated, listen to me!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bone. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, causes it to break up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you feel "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store or dealer and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.

VALUE OF THE GARDEN

Usefulness Cannot Be Measured in Money Alone.

Farmer Will Find It Profitable to Devote Small Patch of Land to Vegetables—Location Should Be Near the Home.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If the value of the home garden were to be estimated in money alone it is safe to say that the returns from a small plot of land devoted to this purpose would be from eight to ten times greater than the value of the cotton which could be raised on the same area. Many southern farmers will refuse to believe this. It is, however, a fact that experts in agriculture have thoroughly demonstrated. For several years past, canning-club girls have made annual net profits of from twenty to fifty dollars on gardens only one-tenth of an acre in extent, and in Alabama this year products worth $700 were raised on seven-tenths of an acre. The usefulness of the garden, however, cannot be measured in money alone, and no man can afford to ignore the important part that an adequate supply of fresh vegetables plays in preserving the health of his family.

It is obvious that when a man buys vegetables he not only pays for the cost of production, but for the cost of transportation and marketing. He obtains, however, an inferior article. Many vegetables lose their characteristic flavor within a few hours, and none are so free from the danger of infection or so palatable as those which are grown at home. In practice, however, if the farmer does not grow his own vegetables it means that in a great majority of cases his family gets no vegetables at all. One result of this is a demand for tonics and other medicines in the spring, for it is a well-known fact that vegetables and fruits furnish many ingredients absolutely essential to human health. Where a monotonous winter diet fails to supply these ingredients, the human system suffers and recourse is had to medicine.

For reasons both of health and money, therefore, the farmer will find of labor by lessening the work of cultivation. A deep soil is desirable, but the depth should be increased gradually. Barnyard or stable manure is the best fertilizer, because it furnishes both plant food and humus. It should be applied far enough in advance of planting time to allow it to decay. If it is available, twenty to thirty tons of manure to an acre will prove very satisfactory. If this cannot be secured, some leguminous crop such as cowpeas, soy beans, or crimson clover should be turned under to supply humus and part of the necessary nitrogen.

Finally, additional fertilizing elements can be applied in the form of commercial fertilizers. These, however, are expensive and it is one object of diversified farming to enable the farmer to economize in their use. On farms which maintain an adequate supply of live stock, and where attention is paid to the enriching of the soil by leguminous crops, this should not be needed, at least in large quantities.

The vegetables that the farmer will grow in his garden depend naturally upon local conditions and the family's own preference. Asparagus, however, should be included wherever it will thrive. This is one of the earliest vegetables and will prove a valuable addition to the spring diet. The roots may be planted in the fall or early spring. After the bed is well established, it should last indefinitely, and for this reason the location of the bed should be very carefully considered beforehand.

Beans are another vegetable which should always be included. The first planting should be made as soon as the ground is reasonably warm, and this should be followed by others at intervals of ten days or two weeks, until the hot weather sets in. Cabbage is also desirable, because it is economical in the use of land and may be sown through a large part of the year. For spring and early summer, good varieties are the Jersey Wakefield, Charleston Wakefield, All Head Early and Succession. In most sections of the South it will hardly pay to attempt to grow cabbage during midsummer, but a fall crop as well as a spring crop should be grown. Cauliflower is generally regarded as a greater delicacy, but it is not so hardy as cabbage. For further information on these and similar vegetables such as celery, lettuce, cucumbers, eggplant, etc., the prospective gardener it profitable to devote to his home garden the small amount of land and the small amount of labor that it requires. The amount of land depends, of course, upon the size of the family. In a majority of cases, however, from one-fourth to one-half of an acre will be found sufficient to produce an adequate supply of vegetables throughout the entire year. Close attention must, of course, be paid to the rotation and succession of crops, the planting planned with forethought, and the cultivation done as carefully as that of any field crop. No specific arrangement can be laid down that would suit all requirements, and each grower must devise plans to meet his own conditions. In this he is strongly urged to seek the assistance which county agents, state agricultural experiment stations, and the federal department of agriculture can give him.

There are, however, certain fundamental principles which apply equally to all gardens. The garden should always be located as close to the house as good ground can be secured. This means that the garden can be cared for at odd moments, when it would be neglected if it were at an inconvenient distance. The vegetables should be planted in long rows in order to make cultivation with ordinary horse implements possible. A slope to the south or southeast is desirable, because the ground warms easily in the spring and early planting is thus made possible. Good drainage is, however, a factor of greater importance. The land should have sufficient fall to drain off surplus water, but not sufficient to wash the soil. If all the ground around the house is level and artificial drainage by open ditches or tile drains is not resorted to, planting should be done on ridges or beds to prevent the drowning of the crops during wet weather.

Thorough preparation of the soil by plowing, harrowing, rolling or dragging will ultimately prove a saving. Special Ink Evolved. As the carbon of ordinary printing inks does not bleach in using printed material for new paper, a French firm has patented a special ink. The black pigment is a compound from tanbark extracts acting on ferrous sulphate, and this is incorporated with resin, or mineral oil and resin, or boiled linseed oil. In repulping the paper the ink is bleached with an acid solution of a hypochlorite, chlorine gas, or hydrochloric or oxalic acid, the pulp being made perfectly white.

Cabbage, beets and mangels make ideal greens for hens during the winter. Small potatoes and speckled apples are also relished, particularly when the fowls are confined to their indoor quarters.

Weaving is believed to be an older art than spinning. Rude looms are pictured on the tombs of Thebes, and it is believed that the ten curtains of fine linen, blue and purple and scarlet, with cherubim of "cunning work," made for the tabernacle, were tapestries, the work of the loom.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—MRS. TILLIE WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N.J.

From Hanover, Penn.

HANOVER, PA.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."—MRS. C. A. RICKRODE, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
